LOCAL NEWS

GO AND see Dr. Fruth, Thursday, Sept. 22. He will be at the St. Nicholas.

JUDGE VAIL has taken the Tuscola case under advisement. It involves the sale of considerable property.

CHRISTIAN DAMMEIER, of Macon, Ill., has been granted a reissue of pension through the agency of M. Shea.

In the county court J. R. Gorin has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Robert Green, the tailor.

RICHARD SMITH, a farmer residing three miles north of Niantic, had four horses and a colt killed by lightning Saturday evening.

THE Clinton jail is without a prisoner, and Deputy Sheriff Gambral has gone off on a pleasure trip. Sheriff Perl never thinks of taking a vacation except on official business.

DR. FRUTH makes a specialty of diseases of men and women and cures when all others fail.

BURGLARS are now at work at Danville. They can't escape from the officers in Decatur, but they have no great fear of the county jail.

CHARLES WILSON, a colored man known to many in Decatur, was recently killed at St. Louis while engaged in a game of craps by W. A. Brown.

A SEVERE earth-quake shock visited Anna yesterday at 2 o'clock p. m. The people there were much excited, and windows and dishes rattled very perceptibly.

IN the circuit court Mrs. Edward Drobisch has filed a bill for a divorce from her husband on the ground of desertion. There is one child. Cren & Ewing are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

A NOTE was received in Decatur to-day announcing the death of Mrs. Eva Corrington, which occurred at Moawequa at 2 o'clock this morning; her age was 26. Deceased was a daughter of Dr. Hoxsey.

TUESDAY, September 22, is the date of Dr. Fruth's visit. Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat a specialty.

"THOUSANDS of G. A. R. men," said a ticket agent yesterday, "are refusing to purchase tickets to the national encampment this month, believing that by holding off they will get the benefit of cut rates. They are making a mistake, as there will be no lower rates than are already offered. There is no necessity for a reduction on the part of the railroad companies, as most of the business is already contracted for."

DR. FRUTH, the celebrated specialist of Chicago, will be at the St. Nicholas Hotel Thursday, September 22. Call and see him free.

A TELEGRAM from Streator says that a conquering hero might well have been proud of the reception which Streator had prepared for her defeated but still beloved Billy Myer. The streets surrounding Kenney and McNamara's headquarters were crowded with people and the I. depot was surrounded by another big crowd and a brass band. But the little "cyclone" had gone on through to Chicago. When he gets back to Streator he will be given such a reception as was never before tendered to a defeated pugilist.

Ladies' White Blucher Oxfords just received at Powers' Shoe Store.

IN the shooting at Camp Lincoln at Springfield yesterday the event was the competition shoot by the distinguished sharpshooters at known distances from 250, 300, 500 and 600 yards with ten shots from each range, allowing a possible score of 200 points. Some fine scores were made at 200 and 300 yards, but the wind increased almost to a gale as the day advanced and the shooting at 600 yards was uncertain. Private D. M. Lewis and Capt. Aiken scored 46 out of 50 at 500 yards. At this point Capt. Aiken had two points over 90 per cent. but he failed to make the coveted 180 at 600 yards owing to the high wind.

Blue Mound News.

John Vandeleve went to Normal Monday. He will take a course in either the Normal or Wesleyan university.

A. L. Gepford, Henry Botoner and S. T. Young have gone to Washington to attend the encampment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Waltz, of Wadsworth, O., are visiting here.

Will Leave the Ministry.

Owing to broken health, Rev. T. J. Bryant, in charge of the Methodist church at Harristown, at the session of the Illinois Conference, will take a superannuated relation after 35 years active work in the church. Rev. Bryant and family will make their future home at Versailles, in Brown county.

BURIED WITH K. P. HONORS.

Funeral of the Late Wm. A. Mundy at Mt. Zion.

The obsequies of the late William A. Mundy, section foreman for the P., D. & E. company, and member of Coeur de Leon lodge, No. 17, Knights of Pythias, this city, were held Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church, with Mr. Bushway as the funeral director. The church was packed with friends. Rev. C. G. Wood, of the Decatur circuit, delivered the sermon, and paid a well deserved tribute to the departed.

The members of Cœur de Leon Lodge chartered a coach on the T., H. & P. road and attended the funeral in a body, wearing the lodge badges of mourning. There were nearly one hundred Knights on the coach, besides Goodman's Band which formed part of the long cortege at the burial, playing a solemn dirge from the house to the church and from the church to the cemetery. The burial was with the beautiful ceremonies of the Knights of Pythias order with A. T. Grist as chief marshal. The pallbearers were C. O. Young, Lewis Lyon, Alois Young, Charles Millspaugh, Franz Young and Adam Seeforth.

The Decatur party arrived home at six o'clock.

NOW AN ACTIVE MEMBER.

Mr. W. W. Linn in the Store of the L. & S., D. G. & C. Co.

Mr. W. W. Linn is now an active member of the Linn & Scrugge Dry Goods and Carpet company, having succeeded his father Mr. W. H. Linn, in looking after the financial and general interests of the big establishment. Mr. Linn will give to the business the full benefit of young energy, his valued training in commercial affairs and his judgment in the general conduct of the store.

Twelfth Visit.

The fact that Dr. Fruth has made 12 professional visits to Decatur, is beyond doubt the very best evidence of his superior skill in the treatment of chronic diseases. The doctor is no stranger here and we know personally of many patients who would gladly bear witness to the efficacy of his treatment and the permanence of his cures. We pride ourselves upon being an intelligent community ever recognizing and liberally rewarding true merit, but quacks and imposters who have ventured in our city have rarely shown themselves a second time. Dr. Fruth does not parade the names of his patients before the public in print, nor use boughten testimonials to advertise himself, but would be pleased to show the skeptical his record cases cured, cured when hope of cure had been abandoned. By his extraordinary success in his practice he has made many friends among those whom he has treated at this place. Socially, the doctor is a gentleman, which combined with courteous address and strict business integrity, places him far above the would-be competitors in his profession. The afflicted should not hesitate to consult him at the St. Nicholas, Thursday, Set. 22d., and an observance of the crowds that throng his parlors for a single day might well be taken as evidence that such a hesitancy does not exist.

Caught on a Pilot.

Coming in from the west early Sunday morning William Skeevers, on Wabash engine 150, pulling a freight train, at the east end of Stevens creek bridge collided with two calves on the track. They had paid no attention to the bell or whistle, and as the train could not be stopped, the calves were struck. Skeevers believed both to have been killed, but on arriving at the depot one of the calves was found landed on the platform of the pilot. The yearling heifer was not bruised or hurt, except perhaps internally, and at the round house she was taken off and tied to a stake where she is waiting the owner.

Horses Killed by Lightning.

Sunday Christ Riser residing north of Forsyth had a fine mare killed by lightning in the Dick Gulick pasture. The mare was out with a lot of other horses, and when she fell dead the horses ran quickly to the barn. Mr. Riser had the mare insured for $100 in the Rockford company.

Henry Martin during the heavy rain on Saturday had a horse killed by lightning at his home place, seven miles north of Decatur.

Killed by a Bull.

J. F. Peters, a prominent farmer living near Bondville, Champaign county, was fatally gored by a bull yesterday. He went into his barnyard to turn his stock into the pasture, when the young animal became enraged and attacked him, threw him to the ground and disemboweled him. His son came to his rescue, but he was fatally injured before anything could be done to save him. He lingered until 6:30 o'clock, when he died.

MR. GOODWIN, of London, bet that he could smoke eighty-six cigars down to an inch in less than twelve hours. He did it with forty-two minutes to spare.

LEAVITT AND DUNHAM.

Republican Nominees for the Legislature Selected To-Day.

Senatorial Convention Held at the Court House—The District Committee.

From Monday's Daily.

The Republican Senatorial convention for the 29th district to nominate two candidates for members of the House of Representatives, met at the court house this morning at 11 o'clock. Major Geo. R. Steele, chairman of the senatorial committee, called the convention to order and named H. K. Midkiff, of Decatur, chairman, who was duly elected. O. T. Kirk, of Blue Mound, was named for temporary secretary.

On motion a committee on credentials was dispensed with and each delegation was empowered to cast the full vote of each county.

The temporary organization was made permanent. Nominations were held to be in order and E. G. Allen of Decatur, nominated T. N. Leavitt, of Maroa, Macon county, and R. C. Maxwell, of Lincoln, named W. S. Dunham, of Atlanta, Logan county.

On motion both gentleman were nominated by acclamation.

The organization of the committee was next taken up, and L. C. Schwerdtferger was selected for Logan county, and C. N. Twadell for Macon county. C. N. Twadell offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Republican senatorial committee be and is hereby empowered to fill any vacancy in the Republican legislative ticket for the 29th senatorial district which may occur.

On motion the candidates, the chairmen of the two county central committees and the senatorial committee were appointed a committee to determine how the vote for representatives shall be cast.

The convention then adjourned.

THE BELL OF THE COUNTY.

It Has Arrived and Will be Hung in the Court House.

This afternoon the ponderous bell for the clock tower of the new court house arrived in the city and was placed under shelter at the new building. The bell is four feet in diameter at the bottom and is three feet high. It weighs 1800 pounds, and was made by the Menelly Bell company at Troy, N. Y. On one side is inscribed in the bell metal, "Macon County Court House—1891—Decatur, Ill., U. S. A."

The bell will be placed in the tower of the court house within a few days. The bottom of the bell will rest on a level with the top of the stone work, and its tones striking the hours will be heard for a great distance.

Home from Conference.

The ministers who attended the U. B. Conference at Teheran last week arrived home Monday. The appointments made by Bishop Dixon were as follows:

Decatur District—J. W. Boggess, presiding elder.
Decatur Station—J. A. F. King.
Decatur Circuit—S. B. Clark.
Elwin Circuit—J. W. Robertson.
Argenta Circuit—H. T. Athey.

Locust Grove Circuit—B. F. Duncan.
White Heath Circuit—David Blunt.
Mound Mission—M. H. Sly.
Fisher Circuit—R. H. Beck.
Casner Circuit—D. O. Giffin.

Rev. L. Field was made presiding elder of the Lexington circuit.

It was voted to hold the 1893 conference in Decatur during the month of September.

Ladies' Gray Glace Slippers just received at POWERS'.

Hustlers.

Will Johnson and Rufus Brown, known to insurance agents in Decatur, and patrons of the Equitable company, achieved a signal victory and captured five out of six cash prizes offered by the Equitable company to the agents who would send in the greatest number of policies within a given time. In May and June Johnson and Brown wrote $122,000 in life insurance and they received the prizes.

Opera House Next Week.

Monday evening, Sept. 19, Mr. Charles Frohman's excellent company in the sparkling comedy, "Gloriana" as played by this company 150 nights in New York.

Wednesday evening, Sept. 21, Katie Putnam in her new play, "An Unclaimed Express Package."

Thursday evening, Sept. 22, Mr. Tony Farrell in the picturesque Irish comedy drama, "My Colleen."

Early Fire.

At 4:15 o'clock this morning a fire broke out at Farmer City, in DeWitt county, destroying Whittaker's barber shop, Reed's bakery, Driver's market and a small frame building. The loss is placed at $3,000.

Fall Styles in Canes.

We have all the new fall styles in canes, for young and elderly gentlemen.

OTTO E. CURTIS & BRO.

IT WAS OLD THEN.

General Grant Drilled Troops in Decatur in 1861.

Gen. Chetlin, of Chicago, related to a representative of the REPUBLICAN a few days ago an incident that occurred April 24, 1861, and which serves to show that the Illinois Central depot in Decatur is distinguished for age. Said the General: "I remember Decatur well, on account of an incident which becomes more interesting with age. After the firing on Fort Sumter, April 12, 1861, we organized a company for the war in Galena, and on the way to Springfield we reached Decatur by way of the Illinois Central and had to wait at the old depot some three or four hours for the Springfield train on the Wabash. This was the 24th of April, 1861. U. S. Grant, Col. Campbell and myself, all obscure and unambitious men at the time, were in the company. While waiting Grant suggested that we go over to a green lawn north of the Wabash track and pass the time drilling. His suggestion was adopted and we divided the 100 men into four squads. Grant took one squad, Campbell took another, and I and some other man each took another, and after arming ourselves with sticks such as we could find we proceeded to drill in formation and manual of arms. We were all pleased with our success, and Grant was especially gratified. We all wanted him to take the captaincy of the company, but he declined on the ground that he had been a captain in the regular army and it might not be agreeable to volunteers. That was a good many years ago. Since then Grant commanded the union armies, was twice elected to the presidency, and has died. Several other men in that company rose to the rank of general, and many others gave their lives or limbs for their country. It is an incident I cannot forget." The general might have added that the old depot is still there.

Drilled with Hoop Poles.

The incident related in the REPUBLICAN yesterday about Grant drilling raw troops on the ground across the Wabash track from the depot in Decatur April, 24, 1861, has brought out the fact that the men used hoop poles for guns which were furnished them by David Martin, who run a cooper shop near that place at that time. Mr. Martin avers that the poles were returned and that fact led him to conclude they were a pretty decent lot of men.

Off for the East.

Quite a number of Decatur people took the Diamond Special for Washington City and various points in the east last night going by way of Chicago. They bought tickets at Tom Peniwell's up-town office. The tourists were John Armstrong and wife, Peter Stare and wife, C. Garver and wife, Samuel Ehrhart and wife, Jacob Schroll and wife, M. H. Martin, J. C. Lingle, A. L. Kirk, Solomon Kitch and wife and son, Mrs. Fanny Perry, James Lay, A. Gepford, Henry Kuin, A. J. Thayer, E. L. Jones, J. Slonaker and wife, William Nickey and Benjamin Longnecker.

Miss Elizabeth Ahrens, left this morning for Baltimore to visit relatives.

Mrs. A. Litsinberger and daughter, Miss Annie, left to-day for Washington, D. C.

Will Eichinger has returned to his studies in the University of Illinois at Champaign.

Mrs. J. A. Brockway and sister, Mrs Eliza Buehler, left to-day for Washington, D. C., via the I., D. & W.

Mrs. Theodore Bobb and sons, George and Bert, left last night for Washington, D. C., and other points in the east.

Charles Becker left to-day for the east. He will visit Washington, Baltimore and many other points before returning.

Ed. Deetz left to-day for Washington, D. C., on an extended visit to relatives. Before returning he will visit at various points.

Off for Dwight.

From Monday's Daily.

D. A. Barrackman, James Garrow and Daniel Halleck, delegates of the local Bichloride of Gold club, left to-day for Dwight, Ill., to attend the second annual convention of the Associated Keeley Bichloride of Gold clubs. The convention opens to-morrow morning and will remain in session until Thursday evening. Five thousand delegates and members of clubs from all over the United States and Canada are expected to be present and a grand parade will occur some time during the week. Dr. Keeley will pay the expenses of the delegates while at Dwight and has subscribed $1000 alone for the music.

Taken Away.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Waldron, pitiable victims of the morphine habit who have been in custody in Decatur for some days, were taken last evening by relatives to Effingham, Ill. The parties came here from Kansas and were picked up in the river bottom by the police.

Case in Chambers.

This afternoon Judge Vail is hearing a case in chambers at the office of Attorney Clokey. It has reference to the Garrett estate at Tuscola. The eight heirs are divided on the point of selling the property. Attorneys Moore and Brigham, of Tuscola, are here.

TOM REED COMING.

The Noted Leader May Speak in Decatur at a Rally.

Wigwam Dedication—Club Meetings in City and Country.

Hon. W. F. Calhoun, member of the state central committee for the Fourteenth congressional district, visited Chicago and state headquarters Saturday, and that night he was one of the speakers at the dedication of Republican wigwams in the 12th and 22d Wards which meetings were attended by 3,000 to 4,000 people. The state committee will supply the Fourteenth district with speakers of national reputation. In October Hon. Tom Reed will speak in Decatur, as will also other gentlemen of note and ability.

Saturday evening State's Attorney Mills addressed a largely attended Republican rally at Boody.

Preparations are being made for a series of meetings in the country. Possibly the Decatur Escort club will attend some of the rallies in a body.

Adlai E. Stevenson arrived at Bloomington Sunday, and said that he had a pleasant and successful trip in Indiana. The statement that Grover Cleveland and he were to stump the western states was news to him. He will begin a series of ten speeches in North Carolina at Asheville next Thursday.

On Thursday, Sept. 22, afternoon and night, the Prohibitionists will hold a rally in Decatur. The speakers will be Hon. R. R. Link, nominee for governor, and J. Ross Hanna.

The preliminary canvass of the state of Illinois by the Republican state committee which is now practically completed shows that Gov. Fifer and the whole Republican ticket are certain of a majority of from 15,000 to 25,000, which concedes that Altgeld will run ahead of his party in Cook county more than Gen. Palmer did in 1888, which it is not believed he will do. As for Harrison and Reid there are most assuring evidences that they will get a heavier majority than was given the national ticket in 1888.

APPOINTMENTS.

There will be evening meetings at the following places on dates named:

Decatur, Thursday, September 15—Gen. Green B. Raum and E. W. Oneal.

Macon, Friday, September 16—I. R. Mills and T. N. Leavitt.

Friends Creek, Friday, September 16—W. F. Calhoun and J. M. Lee.

Long Creek—Monday, September 19—A. H. Mills and J. M. Lee.

Decatur, September 22—W. F. Calhoun.

Oreana, Friday, September 23—A. H. Mills and W. F. Calhoun.

Macon, Friday, September 23—J. M. Lee and E. W. Oneal.

Boody, Saturday, Sept. 24.—D. P. Keller and E. W. Oneal.

Niantic, Saturday, Sept. 24—Isaac R. Mills and W. F. Calhoun.

Decatur, Tuesday, Sept. 27.—George F. Willits and Gen. C. W. Pavey.

Blue Mound, Thursday, Sept. 29.—I. R. Mills and J. M. Lee.

Oakley, Friday, Sept. 30—I. R. Mills and J. H. McCoy.

Warrensburg, Saturday, October 1.—A. H. Mills and W. F. Calhoun.

A Bona Fide Sale to Quit Business.

A fine stock of boots, shoes and slippers to close out at less than cost of manufacture. Not a few baits, but everything goes. Going to quit the business and the entire stock must go regardless of cost. Lease on building, furniture and fixtures for sale cheap. The time to close out is short, so take advantage of this opportunity to get goods at a bargain. The time to buy is now and the place to buy is at Walter Hutchin's, 117 North Water street, sign of Big Shoe.

Sept 5-tf

DeWitt County Fair.

The DeWitt county fair opens at Clinton next Monday. There is a fair prospect for racing stock and breeders and exhibits, and should the fair fall short of preceding ones it will be, perhaps, in the agricultural department. Unusual preparations have been made for old settlers' day, Tuesday. Hon. Thomas F. Tipton has been invited to speak as one of the orators, and he always draws out DeWitt county people.

20,000 Members.

At the convention at Dwight yesterday the report of the secretary showed that there are now in this country over 70,000 graduates of Keeley institutes, and that 20,000 of these are members of bichloride of gold clubs. At present there are throughout the country 125 individual organizations with a membership ranging from a dozen to 5,000 people

THE COUNTY BOARD.

Routine and General Business Receive Attention.

The county board met to-day in the circuit court room, nearly all members present.

Supervisor Burley offered this resolution which was adopted:

Resolved that the purchasing committee be and they are hereby instructed to purchase the required number of ballot boxes for the various voting districts in the county.

The petition of the City Electric Railway company for right to extend the street railway north on Edward street and west on Pugh street was referred to the committee on roads and bridges.

Supervisors Roberts, May and Davidson, special committee, submitted their report, as follows:

"Your special committee, appointed to make investigation as regards those receiving aid from the county for support, would beg leave to report that we have found thus far no violations of law, and a reasonable regard for the welfare of the unfortunate poor. We would recommend that the overseers of the poor do not send orders by children; also, that the names of all persons receiving county aid, with accounts and for what purpose received, be presented to the board quarterly for publication." Placed on file.

The report of J. N. Donahey, county superintendent of schools, was referred to the finance committee.

On motion of Supervisor Garver further time was granted to hear from Mr. Hitt, the Chicago swamp land agent.

A contract with the Decatur Coal company for furnishing coal to the county for the ensuing year was read. The prices agreed upon are as follows: Lump coal on board car at Green's switch for the poor farm, $1.65 per ton; delivered to paupers in the city, $2 per ton; delivered to court house and jail, $1.75 per ton; delivered to jail as ordered, double screened nut, $1.30. The contract was approved.

County Clerk Hardy reported having paid $111.82 for the transportation of paupers for the quarter ending Sept. 1, 1892. The report was referred to the pauper committee.

W. A. Holman, overseer of the poor, made the following report of orders issued for the three months ending Sept. 13: For coal, 91½ tons, $192; provisions, $1382.05; for shoes, $20; transportation, $63; dry goods and sundries, $10.70; burial expenses, $46—total, $1720.65. The report was received and placed on file.

It was stated by Supervisor Miller that Macon county will be required to pay $700 on the erection of the $2800 bridge at Mosquito creek, in the edge of Christian county.

This week the county board will be called upon to give an order for the necessary steel and wooden furniture for the new court house. It will be a task that will require careful inspection of goods and the exercise of good judgement. Macon county has a fine building. Furnish it well. Do not select poor material. Agents for manufacturing houses are now in the city with samples of goods. Geo. S. McGrew, representing Barnard & Co., St. Louis, is at the St. Nicholas with an elegant line of handsome and substantial furniture, which cannot fail to make a favorable impression on the board as to quality and style. It is the best furniture made, and no doubt the prices will be right.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Charles Butzer left to-day for Spokane Falls via Portland, Oregon.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wheeler, at 1120 North Monroe street, September 10, a son.

B. K. Hamsher and Charles Ruehl left to-day for Storm Lake, Iowa, to look at farming land.

T. W. Brown and family of Boody and Doss Elliott of Illiopolis were at Pana Saturday to attend the funeral of the late Katie Elliott, who died in Chicago on Friday. Miss Elliott had been in poor health for many years. She died under a surgical operation.

Born.

To Mr. and Mrs. William Harten, 224 East Bradford street, Sept. 1, a son.

To Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, 845 North Clinton street, Sept. 11, a son.

To Mr. and Mrs. William Gwynup, at their home in Warrensburg, Sept. 12, a daughter.

DIED.

On Sunday, Sept. 11, at 3 p. m., at 658 East Condit street, of diphtheria, James Gogerty, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Gogerty, aged 7 years, 1 month and 19 days.

The funeral will take place this afternoon.

At St. Mary's Hospital at 3:30 a. m., Sept. 12, of inflammation of the stomach, Anna, wife of Charles Kolowski, aged 32 years.

The deceased leaves a husband and seven children.

SCHOOL SHOES.

Now is the time to buy them, and we want to especially recommend John Mundell's Solar Tip Shoes. They will outwear several ordinary shoes for the reason that the sole leather is brought up and bent over in front making it almost impossible to wear the shoe out at the toe. These shoes are in goat, grain and congola stock and are just what is wanted for school wear. We are exclusive agents for them, own them cheaper than any retailer can, and can sell them for the least money.

N. B. Our big Summer sale of shoes is still going on and the Bargains are the greatest ever known in the shoe business in this country.

Inconsistent Tariff Tinkers.

The usual wide margin between democratic promises when seeking office, and performances after attaining to power, finds forcible emphasis in the record made by the majority in the lower house of the present congress. Wafted into place on a tidal wave of misrepresentation of the purposes and effects of the McKinley tariff, after a campaign in which they promised speedy repeal of that measure, they have permitted five months to pass by without the introduction of a single bill to that end—and the best obtainable information is to the effect that no attempt at general repeal is to be made.

All that has been accomplished by the two-thirds majority of the ways and means committee and of the house is the passage of two squib bills, putting metal cotton ties and raw wools on the free list—while both these measures have been so hedged about with inconsistencies as to insure their rejection by the senate when placed before that body for its consideration.

It would seem that reckless demagoguery could go little further than in passing a bill admitting free of duty British-made cotton-ties, while leaving the McKinley tariff on iron ore, pig iron and coal, such as American manufacturers must buy from which to make ties in competition. Yet this is exactly what is required by the bill formulated in the Springer committee and rushed through the lower house of congress with less than two votes to each hundred democrats in the negative.

But it appears that the democratic two-thirds was equal to a still further extreme of reckless inconsistency when it came to deal with the wool schedule. It has long been a cardinal tenet in free trade doctrine that the amount of every tariff is necessarily and inevitably added to the price—not alone of the article imported, but of all similar articles of domestic production. This has been promulgated as the true gospel by all the preachers from the time of Cobden down to Cleveland & Co. Every democrat of the majority recorded in favor of free wool, every editor now commending such vote, is on record as a believer in this doctrine, and should not be permitted to escape the conclusions to which it leads. If the tariff of ten cents per pound adds to the price of wool, by the same reasoning the tariff of fifteen cents per bushel on corn and oats, and four dollars per ton on hay, inures by that much to the cost of those products. Yet this democratic majority would compel the man who buys them for sheep feed to sell his wool without any corresponding defense against foreign competitors—the while prating of party consistency and professing undying friendship for the mass of farmers, whether those who raise grain and hay for market or those who depend upon flock products for their income.

Yet this overwhelming majority found opportunity in the wool bill for still further stultification of its professed sympathy for buyers of woolen goods, whose alleged interest was made the pretext for putting wool on the free list. In the same little bill they carefully preserved the full advalorem duty fixed by the McKinley tariff on all woolen goods! And they are now on record as favoring a tariff on woolen goods amounting to more than 40 per cent. by way of protection to manufacturers, while so far as possible striking down the interests of those who seek to raise on American farms and ranches some portion of the five hundred million pounds of wool yearly consumed by our people.

Let the intelligent voter contrast this record of democratic congressmen with the promises and prophecies made two years ago, and from the showing thus secured draw his conclusions as to how far it will be safe to trust their party in future! Verily the leaders in this farce of tariff reduction are politically dishonest, and those weak enough to follow them can be set down as equally unreliable as law makers.

Our Foreign Trade.

The March statement of the bureau of statistics at Washington, presided over by S. C. Brock, indicates a continuance in the healthy growth of our foreign trade, which was inspired October 1, 1890, by the passage of the McKinley law. Let us look at the figures:

Exports for March, 1893. $81,815,075
Imports " " " .. 90 549,338—$173,903,413

The figures for March, 1891, were: Exports $75,314,830, and the imports $77,634,830, making a total of $152,949,163—or a net gain for corresponding month of 1892 of $15,419,251. Now let us look at the monumental results of our foreign trade for the year ending March 31, 1892:

Exports for year.....$1,036,234,506
Imports " " ..... $87,056,565—$1,943,303,071

For the twelve months ending March 1, 1891, we exported goods to the value of $979,007,966, and imported to the amount of $835,650,804, making a total of $1,707,007,350—or $136,675,741 less than for the year ending March 31, 1892.

The official figures show that under the Harrison administration of protection and reciprocity our foreign trade has been increased in the last twelve months $136,675,741, and increased over Cleveland's last year by $436,297,192.

Turn on the brilliant lights of helpful protection and inviting reciprocity. The republican band wagon leads the grand procession of industrial progress in this fair land of the free and home of the brave.—Princeton Republican.

Some of the democratic "statesmen" in congress have been making buncombe speeches about "tariff on salt." The McKinley tariff on salt is twelve cents per one hundred pounds. Salt is now selling by the barrel at a price which, the cost of the barrel being deducted, amounts to ten cents per one hundred pounds. So it appears that "tax" on salt is nothing, minus two cents.—N. Y. Press.

A panic has stricken the democracy of the country. They could not agree upon any plan of tariff tinkering, or upon the money question, and the one issue of the "billion dollar congress" is apparently lost to them, for a democratic house has already appropriated more money than its republican predecessor.

Enforce the Law.

The tragedy at Garfield Park was exactly what may always be expected from a set of men who are violating law. Those who violate law have no respect for it and never obey it from a sense of duty or responsibility to the commonwealth. It matters not whether the violation comes from men of standing in society, as society goes, or any other class of men, no matter along what line they are organized. Those who violate law are always in a position to become the principals in a tragedy when the condition obtains where any effort is made by the proper officers of the state to enforce the law or where there is an effort made to punish violators of the law. The same spirit which moves the burglar, when detected, to take the life of the man he is robbing, actuates every other law-breaker when he is interfered with.

In the Garfield Park affair an effort was made by the proper authorities of the city of Chicago to suppress a disreputable gambling concern openly run under the name of a racing association conducted by Mike McDonald in that park. The officers with warrants made a raid on the concern, and one Brown shot and killed two of the officers and was himself killed resisting arrest.

Three lives were lost on account of these law-breakers; but, instead of expressions of sorrow from those who are responsible over the result of this crime, we find them expressing sorrow over the death of Brown, one of their number, and not a word of sorrow over the death of the officers of the law and their families. Had every representative of the law been killed there would have been nothing but satisfaction over the result on the part of the manager of this so-called park meeting.

When men engage in any venture which brings them into such relation to society and leads them to feel such defiance of the rights of the public, it is time that the public should awake to the fact that it must be protected, and every possible encouragement should be given those who are attempting to bring the law-defiers to justice.

Laboring Men Will Think.

The laboring men of Decatur, as well as those of every other city, will have to answer the following questions at the the polls this fall:

When all the protective duties are abolished, as the Democratic platform demands, and our ports are opened free to the cheap labor goods of Europe, what is to be done with the millions of protected American workmen who are knocked out of their jobs and yet refuse to accept British rates of wages? Starve them into accepting those rates? Is that the Southern Democratic scheme which Northern doughfaces now endorse?

They will have to answer for the reason that the Democratic platform unequivocally declares against any sort or degree of protection, which is equivalent to declaring in favor of open ports for all foreign goods. The declaration was made a party policy by the Democrats of the South who are the directors of policies for that party and are also the people who believe now and have for over half a century advocated the degrading of labor as the best means of controlling it. That they have not changed their policy in regard to this except so far as the Republican party policy has forced them to do it is shown in the following facts: The 26 Republican states pay an average of $1.33 per day per man, for 312 days in the year, as wages to labor—all above $1.00, and the Southern or Democratic states, including Connecticut and New Jersey, the average wages is only 87 cents a day—all below $1 00 except the two states above named.

It will be seen that in the certain Democratic states the laboring man finds no encouraging friends in the Democratic party. The Democratic friend of labor is always and only found where the demagogue is at work trying to destroy Republican majorities.

It will also be noticed that with the low wages of the Democratic section of the country there is not one strike to where there are forty in the Republican states where the wages are much higher, which argues that strikes are not always the result of low wages, and in a measure confirms the Democratic theory that the way to control labor is to degrade it. But the Republican party and the old Whig party have always consistently held out for the elevation of labor, on the ground that labor as a voting power should be an intelligent and respected power, and for this reason both these parties stood up for protection and higher wages than is paid labor in Europe, while the Democratic party demands that labor here shall be paid no more than labor in Europe.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the Liver be inactive, you have a Bilious Look, if your stomach be disordered you have a Dyspeptic Look, and if your Kidneys be affected you have a Pinched Look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic, acts directly on these vital organs. Cures Pimples, Brotches, Boils, and gives a good complexion. WEDDED AT LINCOLN.

Marriage of W. D. Walter and Miss Bessie L. Beach Last Night.

From Thursday's Daily.

W. D. Walter of the well-known real estate firm of Walter & Walter was united in marriage last evening at 8 o'clock to Miss Bessie Leona Beach at Trinity Episcopal church at Lincoln, Ill., Rev. W. Smith, the rector, officiating, in the presence of a large assemblage of invited guests. It was the most notable wedding that has occurred in Lincoln for some time past. The church was decorated in white, and the bride, who is the daughter of Attorney and Mrs. T. T. Beach, was attired in a handsome costume of cream silk, with bridal veil and diamonds for ornaments. The couple was attended by two bridesmaids with Mr. Rolly Persinger, of Bloomington, as the groom's best man. Following the wedding at the church the guests repaired to the home of the bride on Tremont avenue, where an elegant reception was held. At midnight an elaborate wedding supper was spread. The couple received a large number of costly and useful wedding presents.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Walter left for Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul. They will reside in Decatur and have announced to their friends that they will be at home at No. 944 North Water street after the 15th inst.

KILLED AT CLINTON.

Brakeman W. R. McCoy Meets an Untimely Death.

From Saturday's Daily.

A very sad death occurred at Clinton yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. Head Brakeman W. R. McCoy, of the Illinois Central, was run over by a freight at that city and instantly killed, the cars completely severing the head and right arm from the body. He was seen about the depot a short time before in a partial intoxicated condition, and is supposed to have fallen between the cars near the head of the train. The crew went on, apparently unconscious of McCoy's sad fate. The remains were discovered later, and Coroner Jones, of DeWitt county, held an inquest. The unfortunate man's home was in Freeport, and he was about 23 years of age. A few pieces of money, the address of a Decatur girl, some keys and a train-order journal were all the effects found on the body.

A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING.

Brilliant and Happy Marriage of Miss Shellabarger and Mr. Crowder.

Elaborate Decorations, Rich Toilets and Warm Congratulations.

From Thursday's Daily.

The commodious home of Hon. and Mrs. D. S. Shellabarger on East Eldorado street was thronged with the wealth, youth, beauty and fashion of the city last evening on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Marie Shellabarger and Mr. Andrew Smith Crowder. It was an elaborate and beautiful wedding, and because of the popularity and personal worth of the young couple, the event has been looked forward to with pleasurable anticipations for months.

The marriage was solemnized at 8 o'clock in the drawing room of the mansion by Rev. Dr. W. H. Musgrove, of Rushville, formerly pastor of the present Grace M. E. church. He was assisted by Rev. H. H. Oneal, who offered the prayers. The orchestra played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the bridal party approached the floral altar. The four brides maids preceded the maid of honor, the bride entering the room on the arm of her father, Hon. D. S. Shellabarger. As the bride approached, Mr. Crowder, attended by his friend, Will Quinlan, of Chicago, entered by another door, and the couple stood before the ministers and the large company of friends. The ceremony was quite impressive and the responses were clear and distinct. The maid of honor was Miss Grace Shellabarger, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Miss Corrine Shellabarger, Miss Carolyn Clarkson, of Topeka, Kansas; Miss Alice Judson, of Chicago, and Miss Mabel Ford, of New York City.

The bride was attired in a lovely empire costume of peau du soi with point lace trimmings, long sleeves and train; the conventional bridal veil was worn. It was caught up with a spray of diamonds. Roses, white gloves and white satin slippers completed the costume.

Miss Grace Shellabarger wore a beautiful gown of white surah silk, with white chiffon overdress, full waist, full skirt and puffs. She carried a wreath of white roses.

Each of the bridesmaids wore pink taffata gowns with chiffon overdress, cut in style of dress worn by the maid of honor; each carried a wreath of pink sweet peas.

Mrs. D. S. Shellabarger, mother of the bride, gray crepe with Duchess lace trimming.

Miss Peabody, of Cincinnati, white bengaline with pearl trimmings.

Miss Lamson, of Chicago, red crepe, trimmed with mousseline de soi.

Miss Crounse, of Oak Park, Ill., pea green crepe, ribbon trimming.

Miss Platt, of Chicago, light blue crepe, ribbon trimming.

Miss Kathleen Maguire, sister of the groom, white silk, pearl trimmings.

Miss Anna Maguire, sister of the groom, light blue silk.

The congratulations of the immediate relatives and school friends of the bride were received at once, and when the orchestra played the Mendelssohn wedding march, Mr. and Mrs. Crowder passed to the dining hall where the bridal party, relatives and immediate friends were served the wedding feast. returning to the drawing room the couple received the entire company.

The dining hall was most tastefully arranged. It was in keeping with other beautiful decorations. There was a central table and chairs placed around the room—all guests facing the table, and being served by a number of attendants, under the direction of the St. Louis caterers, the Peckman Brothers. In the center of the table was a lovely arrangement of pink sweet peas. There were numerous candalabra, a beautiful arrangement of pink ribbons, costly cut glassware and here and there appeared graceful loops and decorations of smilax. The rich menu included many novel shapes in ices. The feast was a model in quality and service. The menu

Sweet Bread, Cequilles.
Chicken Salad on Lettuce Leaves.
Salad Rolls. Olives. Salted Almonds.
Individual Ices and Creams.
Half Oranges with Sherbert. Bride's Cake.
Assorted Cake. Lemonade. Coffee.

The house decorations were as fine as ample means and art could fashion them, and the mansion was aglow with electric and gas light. On every hand appeared fragrant flowers and pleasing adornments. In the spacious halls were tropical plants in profusion, and the chandeliers were decked with smilax. In the drawing room the large mantel was hidden with hot house flowers, whose rich perfume filled the room. Similar flowers adorned the lace curtains. A low railing of smilax was placed at the west end of the drawing room, with clusters of tropical plants at each side. In the music room were potted plants and smilax, and in the sitting room the decorations were goldenrod and nasturtiums. Throughout the evening the Opera orchestra discoursed entrancing music.

The guests included representatives from all the principal families in Decatur and many of the ladies wore beautiful toilets prepared for the occasion. Invitations were sent to nearly 400 friends. Those present from a distance were Miss Carolyn Clarkson, Topeka, Kansas; Miss Alice Judson, Chicago; Miss Mabel Ford, New York City; Miss Peabody, Cincinnati; Miss Lamson, Chicago; Miss Crounse, Oak Park; Miss Platt, Chicago; Miss Julia Anderson, Taylorville; Misses Maguire, sisters of the groom, Bethany; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cree, Monticello; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hillman, Peoria; Mrs. John D. Black and daughter and Mrs. Dr. Bocock, Springfield; Isaac Cornthwait, Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Page, Peoria; Silas Snyder, Joplin, Mo.; John Hood, Chicago; Lester Wymond and Bert Eddy, Bloomington; Berry Ennis and Will Quinlan, Chicago.

Cards and telegrams of congratulations were received from many friends who could not be present.

The great array of presents given the bride as mementoes of her marriage was displayed in an upper room. The collection embraced many costly and beautiful articles, both useful and ornamental. A greater assortment of gifts a Decatur bride never received.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Crowder left for the north on a bridal tour. They will be absent about ten days, when they return to the city because of the serious illness of the groom's sister at her home at Bethany. The couple will make their home at Spokane, Washington, where Mr. Crowder by fortunate investments has large property interests. He is a young man of exemplary habits and good business judgment and attainments. He was formerly in the Decatur National bank, retiring to start the boom in real estate in Decatur. He started for Spokane and reached that city at a time when property was comparatively low in price. His chosen wife is a young lady of rare accomplishments. She is a graduate of the Decatur high school and of Lasell seminary. In social and church circles she has ever been a favorite, because of her charming womanly ways and intellectual attainments.

The REPUBLICAN joins with the hosts of Decatur friends of the bride and groom in extending congratulations.

The U. B. Conference.

Abram Kramer arrived home Saturday from Teheran, where the U. B. Conference is in session. He states that Rev. J. A. F. King will be returned as pastor of the Decatur church for another year. This will be highly gratifying news to the U. B. church people and the many other Decatur friends of the popular minister. The coming year Rev. J. W. Boggess will be in charge of the Decatur district, and Rev. L. Fielding go to the Lexington district. In all probability the 1893 conference will be held in Decatur.

Bought the Coal.

J. S. Kuns bought the coal that was in the wreck east of town. There were 126½ tons of it. He had it hauled to the brick yard the first of the week. Pratt & Co. of Decatur bought the grain. There were 3154 bushels of corn and 500 bushels of wheat. There was not a great deal of loss on either the coal or the grain as it was nearly all gathered up.—Cerro Gordo New Era.

The coal and grain were scattered by 14 Wabash cars being derailed, caused by a broken rail.

Are the Democratic leaders afraid of the people, or are they afraid of their platform? Glorious party, this!

GORDON H READ one of the oldest business men of Bloomington, and husband of Mrs Read, well known in W C T U work, died yesterday He had been in poor health many months and his death was expected He leaves a wife and two He was 62 years old He had resided in Bloomington 36 years He became quite wealthy by managing a prosperous hardware business with his brother Charles He was prominently identified with all public movements of a benevolent nature

DEMOCRATS in public life feel as much confidence in President Harrison's wisdom and patriotism as do Republicans. The bill according the President power to levy retaliatory canal tolls on Canadian vessels passing through our canals passed both houses without a single dissent from any Democrat, although Representative Turner (Dem., Ga.) pointedly called attention to the fact that the power conferred on the President is exactly similar to that in the reciprocity clause of the McKinley law Democrats know that this large discretionary power is safe in President Harrison's hands.

DEMOCRATS weep over "the burdens of taxation' that are put upon the people, but they have never accomplished the removal of any of these burdens. The promise of the Republican party is, if the burden is specified and pointed out (which the Democratic shouters cannot do), to remove the burden if it lies within the authority of the government to do it The people are showing ample capacity to learn that the alleged burdens that the Democrats point out do not, in fact, rest upon the people The people have insight to perceive that the burdens that afflict them are not those due to a protective tariff

THE Democratic bosses are determined to defeat the effects of the report of Labor Commissioner Peck and have began court proceedings to get hold of the figures in his office The report shows American prosperity and the Democrats know they cannot conduct a successful campaign when they are unable to show the country is getting along well, hence the continued effort of that party to thwart American enterprise The worst enemy the American people have is the Democratic party The best friend England has is that same party.

THE Review is against the Chicago police force and characterizes it as "a force that for years has made law to suit itself,' and expresses sorrow that there were not enough Browns to kill off the entire force Will the Review please inform us what class of votes it is after when it takes such a position? There are several men in the Illinois penitentiary now for advocating the destruction of the police and the throttling of the law It must be a glorious thing to be a Democrat when such declarations are supposed to bring votes into the Democratic party. Law abiding men in that party must feel a supreme disgust over the drift of their party under the management of the party bosses It is a consolation, however, to patriotic men within that party to know that the men who disgrace it have no power to force any man to remain in the party.

Foraker on Deck.

The Democrats have been in a good deal of trouble lately because ex-Gov. Foraker was making no speeches. They seemed to be greatly disappointed about Foraker's loyalty to the presidential nominee. The ex-governor has relieved this Democratic suspense by making a speech that the most inferior Democrat can understand. Following is an extract from it, in which he contrasts the Republican and Democratic nominees for president, and every young man should read what he says

When the war came on it but intensified their differences Harrison became a soldier and Cleveland became a copperhead. Harrison volunteered and Cleveland hired a substitute. Harrison stood for the union and Cleveland remained in the party that was the hope of secession. Harrison believed in emancipation, Cleveland insisted that it was unconstitutional. Harrison believed in enfranchising the black man, Cleveland opposed that also. When the greenback became a war necessity Harrison was its friend; Cleveland was its enemy When the war was over and the national honor required its restoration, Cleveland agreed with his party in their demand for an unrelated issue of it. To make a long story short, Harrison not only now, as always has been a Republican he has been identified with all the illustrious achievements that have made that party the greatest ever known in the history of the world He has been the friend, supporter and associate of all the great heroes who have wrought for our country during the last thirty years. He has entertained the loftiest and purest sentiments that ever found expression in American politics His party has never risen so high that he has not stood on the same plane with it He has been constantly and zealously on the right side of every great question of our day and generation He was against slavery and for the Union, the constitution and the flag He favored all the great measures of war, reconstruction and finance.

His administration has been exceptionally successful It will long be remembered as intensely American He has firmly maintained law and order at home, and with dignity and patriotism maintained our rights and upheld our honor abroad England, Germany and Italy, as well as Chili, can testify from personal experience that the United State government as now administered is both just and courageous. Canada is in a fair way to learn the same lesson, and while these diplomatic triumphs have been achieved, the work of extending our commerce, upbuilding our navy and making provision for an American merchant marine has gone steadily forward Four more years of Benjamin Harrison in the White House will not only continue the marvelous prosperity with which we are blessed, but give to us our rightful place in the councils of the seas and make us the dominant power of the Western hemisphere His record is resplendent with good deeds and brilliant triumphs It has been made in spite of the constant opposition of the Democratic party In all of this opposition Cleveland has belonged and adhered to that party He has no share whatever in the great victories that have been won in either the field or the forum

How is a Democrat when Democracy is at the auction block and the whipping post He was a Democrat when Democracy was enacting and enforcing laws that made it a crime to teach the black man the letters of the alphabet. He was a Democrat when Democracy enacted the fugitive slave law He was a Democrat when Democracy taught the treasonable doctrine of secession He was a Democrat when Democracy fired on Fort Sumter He was a Democrat when Democracy denounced Lincoln as an ape, a gorilla a tyrant and a usurper He was a Democrat when Democracy resisted the draft He was a Democrat when Democracy pronounced the war a failure and demanded an immediate cessation of hostilities He was a Democrat when Democracy resisted the emancipation of the slave and the enfranchisement of the black man. He has been persistently on the wrong side of all the great questions of our time His party has never sunk so low that he has not stood upon the same plane with it. His whole life and all his political affiliations and experiences were such as to prepare him for the work of vetoing pension bills, returning rebel flags, advocating free trade and making war generally upon the patriotism and prosperity of this country when he became president It was not to the credit of the American people that he was made president once. It would be inexcusable to make him president twice.

Free Rags and Cholera.

In his speech on the Springer free wool bill the Hon Julius C Burrows drew the following picture of the source of the supply the Democrats were inviting to our shores. This speech was delivered before the outbreak of the cholera epidemic, but is of added interest in view of the advances made by that dread disease. Said Mr Burrows

But having presented a measure which, if enacted into law, would result in destroying sheep husbandry in the United States, with the consequent annual loss to the world's supply of wool of 300,000,000 pounds, the question naturally arises, wherewithal then shall we be clothed? How considerate of the majority of the committee to anticipate this inquiry and promptly allay all apprehension by the assuring and comforting answer, rags, mungo and shoddy Yes, rags are to be free The chiffonnier with stick and nail and bag, scouring the gutters of foreign cities for woolen rags, or gathering the cast off clothing and blankets which have wrapped putrid carcasses in the lazar and pest houses of Europe and Asia, will ply his vocation with increased zeal and take fresh courage at the prospect of this new market for his free raw material The present duty of 10 cents a pound practically excludes foreign rags from our market while free trade England adds annually to her domestic supply 75,000,000 pounds of foreign rags which she converts into shoddy for the clothing of her people

Altgeld and Mike.

There seems to be a general uprising of citizens of Chicago in support of the authorities in their effort to beat back the Garfield Park evil. They are meeting in different parts of the city by thousands to express approval of the course pursued by Chief McClaughrey and the police

In none of these meetings has Mr. Altgeld appeared. He poses in his candidacy for the governorship as a reformer. If he were elected governor, he would stand officially as the chief executive, the personification of the laws of the state of Illinois If he is qualified, morally, to stand in this relation to the law and the people, being a citizen of Chicago, the people have a right to expect that in the present uprising of the law-abiding people of Chicago in favor of the enforcement of the law against gambling, to have his support. Why does he not give this movement the encouragement of his endorsement? The answer is plain. The gang that is violating the law of the state at Garfield Park is made up of the friends of Altgeld. They are led by Mike McDonald, the man who gave Altgeld the nomination and whose candidate he now is

If Altgeld were elected governor he would be Mike McDonald's man, and, instead of standing for the enforcement of the laws of the state, under the direction of Mike McDonald he would do what he could to defeat the law and those who sought to enforce it

If there were to-day an anarchistic uprising in Chicago, if socialism were attempting to assert itself, or if any other mob were disturbing the peace of society, not one word would we hear against them from Altgeld He is the candidate of this entire rabble, and would not oppose them. For the same reason, were he the governor of this state, he would still stand in the same relation to these people His election to this high office, to which Mike McDonald seeks to elevate him, would mean danger to the peace of society in every part of the state.

The people of the state of Illinois have come face to face with these facts and are called upon to determine whether such a man as Altgeld, under the control of the element that forced his nomination upon the Democratic party, shall be governor or not, whether a law abiding and law-loving citizen, though he be a Democrat can afford, for the sake of party success at the polls, to vote for him at the peril of peace and good order

Is it Honest?

The readers of the REPUBLICAN know that it has had some difficulty in causing the Review to amend the "Democratic Tariff Law,' which it publishes daily at the head of its editorial columns When it first began putting this tariff plank at the head of these colums the word "constitutional" was omitted from the tariff plank and instead of reading "the federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties,' in which form it was adopted by the Democratic convention, the word "constitutional" was dropped After twice calling the Review's attention to this omission it inserted the word and explained that the word was not left out intentionally But this morning the Review publishes this plank of the Democratic platform in two other parts of the paper and in both cases the word "constitutional" is left out while the plank, as it appears daily, stands at its place with the word "constitutional" in as we caused them to print it

What does all this mean? If it means anything it means that the Democratic leaders are not only dishonest with the people, but open to the charge of cowardice as well, and that the Review has become the tool of these people. It is useless for the Review to claim now, that in the two cases to which we refer it omitted the word "constitutional" by mistake, and we challenge that organ to attempt an explanation of its course in the present instances

The facts are, that paper has approved the effort of the party leaders to deceive the voters as to what the party has declared touching the tariff It does this wilfully and for no better reason than that it has turned coward, and to save the party engages in a contemptible effort to distort its own platform

A party which can be guilty of such duplicity upon a matter which affects the welfare of the American people to the extent that the tariff does, is unfit to be placed in control of the affairs of any people The promises of such a party are utterly worthless, and the political teachings of such a newspaper must be Regarded as dishonest and the veriest rot If it can be so palpably dishonest in this important matter it cannot be trusted at any point

WILD CAT MONEY DAYS.

What the Democrats and the South Want to force on the Country.

In their national platform the Democrats ask that the ten per cent tax on the issues of state banks be repealed. What does that mean? It means a return to the days of wild cat and worthless money to take the place of the present financial system any country has ever known—the best money on earth.

There are many citizens of Decatur and Macon county who personally remember the uncertain times before 1861, when money thought to be good in the morning was thrown out as worthless at the banks when brought in for deposit H. B. Lewis, an ex-merchant of Decatur, lost thousands of dollars in the wild cat days, and for one, he is not willing to have any party juggle with the present financial system It is good enough for him

Lieut. Gov Ray, Republican nominee for re-election, has good reason to remember the day of wildcat currency in the State of Illinois. An incident in connection with his business career and wild-cat money is going the rounds of the press and it is not so bad In speaking of wild-cat money, how many persons can form an intelligent idea of the amount of money lost by the people of this state from irresponsible bank issues The amount has been variously estimated but from the best source obtainable, that of Ford's history of Illinois places the amount at $13,000,000 Here is what Lieutenant Governor Ray says in regard to his experience.

Lieut Gov. Ray is pretty well calculated to ventilate the villainy concealed in the innocent little two-line recommendation of the Democrats for repealing the 10 per cent tax on the issues of state banks. He was in business during the "wild-cat" era and had experimental demonstration of the difficulty and annoyance attending the transaction of business, using as trade a medium falsely called money, issues of all sorts of banks so variable in value that it changed not only daily, but often hourly He relates one instance which will stand for thousands of others, similar in general aspects though varying often in detail A farmer having swept together a considerable sum, concluded to trade it out, rather than keep it, and therefore organized a trip to town—accompanied by his wife and daughters, all being willing to join the procession, as they needed so many things After the selections of goods had been made, the old-time wallet was produced and nice new crisp bills on a new wildcat bank The governor did not know the rate of discount for the new bills, but agreed to leave it to the leading bank of the city. The rate being set, 20 per cent. off, the bill was paid and after bidding his customer good-bye, Mr Ray made up his money for deposit. On reaching the bank he was astonished to find that the money he had just taken from the farmer was to be shaved 5 per cent. more "I thought you told me to allow the farmer 80 cents on the dollar," said Ray "So I did," said the banker, "but that was an hour ago, and I just had a private dispatch." "Well, take my money at 75 cents then," said Ray, who, looking out, saw a messenger boy approaching. "All right," said the banker, who a moment later received another dispatch of a still greater discount

THE Review makes a sad attempt to excuse its attack on the Chicago police force for attempting the arrest of the law-breakers at Garfield park by quoting what the Chicago Herald, another Democratic paper, has said about them It says: "The average Chicago policeman is a constant menace to the peace of the community.' The average policeman of Chicago stands as a representative of the people to bring those who disturb the peace of the community to justice No matter how bad they are, and they are pretty bad, for they are nearly all Democrats, they were in the act of arresting law-breakers at Garfield park, and because these law-breakers were Democrats—some of them, like Mike McDonald, leading Democrats who are standing behind Mr. Altgeld, the Democratic nominee for governor—the Democratic press makes an assault on the police. But the people can rest secure in the opinion that the Chicago police sometimes do their duty, which the Democratic press never does when they can make political capital out of any event, and in this sense the Chicago police force is in no respect as dangerous to the peace of the community as the Democratic party. They never advocate anarchy, but the Democratic press does

Mandamus

The Democratic demagogues of the country, and every other Democrat who would rather see ruin strike the country than have a single Democratic fool theory smashed by a solid fact, became terribly excited when Labor Commissioner Peck, of New York, made his report, which so enthusiastically testifies to the benefits which have come from the McKinley tariff To break the force of these facts the Democratic leaders have begun mandamus proceedings to compel the commissioner to turn over for their examination the correspondence and other data from which he made his tables Just as they have done this, however, here comes the Massachusetts labor commissioner's report, which bears still stronger testimony in favor of the new tariff. Following that is the report of State Statistician Peelle, of Indiana, and a Democrat, too, in which he gives figures showing that the average earnings of labor in that state for the past year were more than ever before, while the cost of living has decreased With these solid facts piling up in front of Democratic demagogues they had better stop trying to mandamus and fire somebody to damn them

Recipe for Cholera

The New York Sun cholera cure has been adopted in the United States Pharmacopoeia, and is a medicine approved and valued by every medical man in the country. Dose fifteen to thirty drops in water, to be repeated in fifteen or twenty minutes if necessary

Growing Rapidly

The last issue of the Pythian Record shows that the supreme lodge has $72,826 33 in cash on hand, with $50 000 invested at 4 per cent, subject to 30 days' call. In 1864 there were 78 members. Now there are 4001 subordinate lodges with 357,924 members. In the Uniform Rank during the past year there were formed 289 divisions Illinois furnished 18 new divisions, being the third state in point of growth

Mr Whipp finds that there is ample room for improvement in a large number of jails The Alexander county jail, for instance, is in the basement of the court house, and during the high water period the prisoners had to wade through the water knee deep if they occupied the jail at all Pope county's jail never has a fire in it the year around In Henderson county the jail is in the basement of the poorhouse, and is damp and cold; it has only artificial light In Clinton county the jail is a poor one, a suit for $5,000 damages against the county is now pending for a case of rheumatism contracted by one of its prisoners DeWitt county has a poor jail, but it is empty most of the time. Among the other counties having poor jails are Woodford, Mason, Iroquois, Clay, Boone, Kendall, Richland, Brown, Stark, Massac, Pulaski, Putnam, Cumberland, Saline, Kankakee, Lake, Lawrence and Macoupin

In Cook county the number of prisoners committed during the year 1891 was 4330 The county outside of Cook having the largest number of prisoners is Sangamon, in which there were committed during the year 1298, of which 600 were tramps.

WE have received the Acme Songs Republican Manual of 1892, with 167 rounds of first-class ammunition—80 articles of facts, statistics and principles, 75 songs and 12 illustrations. It is from the Acme Publishing Bureau, Syracuse, N Y, and is intensely loyal and the only book written principally by veterans of the Union army Its 64 pages (cover besides) are crowded full of education and inspiring cheer for Republicanism and prosperity It is more a book for those who are not singers and is the best memento (to preserve) of the fun, facts and spirit of this active autumn It will have a great influence—it is to be hoped equal to the prophecy of a prominent paper in the Northwest "It is so completely convincing that, if only laid on the door step of a Democrat or Alliance man, it ought to lead him to vote the Republican ticket" Price of the book mailed, ten cents, eleven for $1 The original picture of Cleveland as a John Bull Phonograph is worth the cost of the book Order through your Clubs or from (only address necessary) Col Redington, Syracuse, N. DISASTER NEAR LINCOLN.

Fatal Railway Accident Last Evening on the Central Railroad

Last evening at 4:15 o'clock near Lincoln, on a bridge crossing Kickapoo creek, a wreck occurred on the Champaign and Havana branch of the Illinois Central, causing twelve persons to be severely injured. Four will die

The fatally injured

EDGELL, FRANK, Middletown, Ill, right arm broken, skull fractured will die

KIRKPATRICK, JOHN, Lincoln, head crushed, internal injuries, will die,

RITSCHER, MRS. JOHN, Burtonview, Ill., lower limbs paralyzed, spine injured, will die.

RITSCHLER, infant of Mrs. John Ritschler, head cut, will die

The seriously injured

BALLARD, MRS WM, seriously cut and bruised about the head and body

BEST, REV JAMES, Lincoln, bad scalp wound and body contused,

BUSCH, CARL, Chicago both knees sprained

GASSETT, J., conductor, Champaign, Ill shoulder sprained, right leg hurt

MCQUAY, ALBERT, lineman, Champaign, Ill right shoulder blade broken, head cut, lower limbs sprained

PFETZINGER, CARL J, Havana, Ill, slightly

SMITH, DANIEL, brakeman, Clinton, Ill slightly.

WORTZBAUGH MICHAEL, New Holland, Ill nose broken, badly scalped

Some time ago the rains caused a washout The hole was filled with loose dirt, and recent rains washed out another aperture at the west end of the bridge over the creek When the accommodation freight, running fifteen miles an hour, passed over at the time mentioned, the track sank. All the train except the caboose and two box-cars passed safely over, but the cars referred to jumped the track and were dashed down fifteen feet into the creek, and, jerked along by the force of the speed they were going, were wrecked and broken so badly that it is remarkable that one of the twelve inside the caboose escaped alive. Three men riding on a flat-car, aided by the engineer fireman, and brakeman, went back to the passengers, rescued them from the wreck, and then sent the engine to Lincoln for surgeons and other assistance. A drizzling rain was pouring down at the time, and those of the injured unable to walk had to lie on the ground with whatever shelter could be provided from boards and clothing of uninjured ones Mr Busch was pinned under the wreckage in the creek and was almost drowned before he was rescued

The injured were brought to Lincoln two hours after the accident in a cattle-car and sent to the hospital, private residences, and hotels

Sugar and the Cholera Scare

Sugars are advancing rapidly having yesterday advanced in New York 18c on the hundred pounds This advance was wholly on raw sugars imported into this country from Europe and the West Indies, but of course refined will advance just in the same proportion The United States raises only about one-fifth of the sugar used here, the other four fifths being imported It was for this reason that the tariff was taken off Vessels from European ports have been quarantined against on account of the cholera scare and so, of course, the sugar supply is cut off for the time being This is the reason that sugars are advancing and it is quite certain that they will go still higher When you go to buy your next supply of sugar and you find that it has gone up, don't blame the grocer, but charge it up to the cholera scare

Farmers Can Fall Plow Now

The heavy rains have made the soil damp enough so that farmers can now go to plowing. But comparatively little has so far been done and that much has been accomplished under difficulties The sowing of fall wheat will now go on rapidly and thousands of acres of land will probably be plowed this week for the planting of corn next year

THE LAXATIVE GUMDROPS.

These gumdrops act directly upon the liver, stomach and bowels, producing a gentle action and relieving constipation, no matter of how long standing. They contain no ingredients that are harmful, so that while from two to four constitute a dose in ordinary cases, as many as ten can be taken at a time without injury. They come at 10 cents a box for the small size, or 25 cents a box for the large size. You can carry them in your pocket and eat them at any time without any one knowing that they contain medicine. In short they take the place of the ordinary pill, and are so pleasant and delightful that children eat them without any question. They are a sovereign remedy for indigestion, and excellent for persons who have weak stomachs. Every druggist has them but if you cannot obtain them, write to us enclosing the price and we will send them to you by mail.

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN.

ENTERED at the Postoffice at Decatur, Illinois as second class mail matter.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN will not run for congress His only qualification has been destroyed

MR BLAINE will please take notice that Benjamin Harrison has written a letter —Review Sept 7

The Democratic party will please take notice that Mr Blaine has written a letter.

MIKE MCDONALD, who is at the head of the disreputable Garfield Park gambling concern, which has been the cause of the death of two officers and one of the gang, is the man who foisted Mr Altgeld on the Democratic party as its candidate for governor of Illinois When Mike McDonald goes into the business of making governors whose duty it is to execute the law, it is time for the people to take a hand

THE McKinley tariff law has moved the great silk and mohair plush factory of Henry Lister & Son, of Huddersfield, England, from that place to Jamestown, New York, where it will give employment to 1200 hands on American soil to be fed and clothed by American products and to pay taxes and free tribute to American institutions. This is only one of many similar events which have been the result of the McKinley law, but any one of them is more than a free trade tariff ever produced. A free trade tariff never started a single industry in this country

ONE of the speakers at the Democratic wigwam in the northeastern part of the city last night is reported to have said that the free trade tariff of 1846 was endorsed by the Republicans voting for a further reduction of the duties in 1857 It is true that the protectionists (Whigs) in the lower house of congress voted to reduce the duties still further, and why should they not so vote? The tariff of 1846 was not a protective tariff, and under it foreign goods came in and our industries went down, competition was destroyed and prices of manufactured products were advanced to the consumer It was a free trade tariff and lacking any protective feature the lowtariff was a tax on the consumer,as such a tariff always is, and when the free traders sought by the act of 1857 to further reduce the duties of a free trade tariff, the protectionists as a matter of course voted for the reduction A free trade tariff is a tax on the consumer and protects no American industry or American labor, and, if you must have such a tariff, the lower it is the better it is for the consumer A protective tariff builds up American industries and opens avenues for employment of labor These industries become competitors with European industries and competitors with each other, and by such competition goods are made cheaper to the consumer and the tariff becomes a benefit and not a tax to the consumer

Will not Bear the Light of Facts.

Some of our Democratic friends, in spite of the fact that President Buchanan in his annual message in 1859 said the country's commerce had gone to ruin and good men were everywhere out employment and that our factories were idle, are telling us of the good times during the free trade tariff of 1846-60 This is not only ridiculous to those who lived in those times, but the facts show the claim to be ridiculous

Let us take a few illustrations from the facts and see how they look In 1845 cotton cloth was selling at 12½ cents a yard, sheeting, 15 cents, calico, 31 cents sheeting, 16⅔ cents, cambric, 12½ cents, bar soap, 12½ cents, linseed oil, $1 25, raisins, 25 cents a pound, gingham, 24 cents, Turk Island salt, $1 a bushel, axes, $1 50, nails, 7 cents, quire paper, 25 cents These are fair samples of prices to the consumer at that date, while his wages was only one-half what it is now, or 75 cents a day for ordinary wages and $1 for the very best help For a carpenter in those days $1.25 was regarded as extravagant wages Such a carpenter now gets $3 00 for 10 hours' work

These are facts which cannot be disputed, and the quack tariff doctor who assumes the opposite is simply talking stuff. There is another fact these men forget, and that is that after 15 years experience with a free trade tariff the last year goods were just as high to the consumer as they were when the law was enacted Over against this stands the fact that there has not been a period in any ten years in 1860 to the present time that the price of goods has not declined to the consumer, while at the same time wages advanced

Why is this? By protection we secure competition and competition begets invention and goods become cheaper Then again the primary object of a protective tariff is to preserve the American market to Americans and it may or may not raise prices It enables our people to make our own goods without sending our money abroad for them Our manufacturers, finding the home market, the best in the world, secure against cheap foreign competition know about how much they can sell and can figure prices down to the closest possible margin with slight chance of loss, while with foreign competition they were never sure of the market nor at what prices they might be compelled to sell their goods and therefore must calculate against large chances of loss Their business is now more sure and they are willing to carry it on at narrower margin of profit, hence lower prices and higher wages have always followed a protective tariff.

A Record

The Democratic press, as a matter of course, assails the President and the Republican party and charges it with having legislated against the interests of the people Harrison's letter of acceptance has been the means of causing this Democratic gang of soothsayers to break out afresh

The scene they present reminds one of the prophets of Baal on Mt Carmel when, they attempted by the instrumentality of noise to call down fire to consume their putrid offering failed so ingloriously But it is of no avail The people of this country are not silly enough to believe that the protective policy, which has brought such signal prosperity to the country, is against the interests of the people or that the Democratic party platform is the breeding ground of patriots. The country has always prospered under a protective policy and has always suffered under a free trade tariff History records these facts and no amount of cavil can blot them out

The protective tariff policy has had for its advocates Washington, Hamilton, Franklin, Madison, Monroe, Jefferson, the Adamses, Webster, Jackson, Clay, Lincoln, Greeley, Sumner, Conklin, Grant, and Garfield. Does any man who has not been in rebellion against the government say that these men were not patriots or that they were legislating for the rich, against the poor No, these men in their day and generation were the salt of the earth and this generation points with pride to the records they made for themselves by their devotion to the interests of the whole people.

On the other hand, who were they who advocate free trade as a policy adapted to the wants of our people? It had its origin in this country in South Carolina, and that state, on the assumption that a state is supreme, attempted to nullify the protective tariff laws of the federal government In this the state was defended by John C Calhoun, and President Jackson had a notion the country might well be rid of him These statesmen who took their states out of the union were free traders, and are to day the leaders of those who advocate that policy

Is there any man, who feels the pulsation of patriotism, so great a fool as to believe that these men, who have been sought with swords in their hands ready to rip up the government, are greater patriots than Washington, Jefferson, Monroe, Jackson and Lincoln? There is no question as to which of these loved his country most Is there any question in the mind of any reasonable man as to who served it best?

The men whose conduct shows that they love their country, and upon whose patriotism there are no blotches, are not men who advocate policies which are inimical to the best interests of the people, as the Democrats so recklessly charge leading Republicans with doing

It is easy for designing men to make charges which are untrue, but it is not so easy to convince the intelligent people that such men as President Harrison, Gov McKinley, Thomas B Reed Senator Cullom and Senator Allison are enemies to the general welfare of this country and only such men as Cleveland, Roger Q Mills, Speaker Crisp and Bill Springer are the better friends of the people and are better qualified than the former to determine a policy for the betterment of the condition of the government

SENATOR EDMUNDS, who is traveling in Europe, has found that the more he sees of that country the more his heart warms toward his native land Nothing fits a man more for the love of country than to be a Republican. In a letter written from Italy to Senator Proctor by Mr Edmunds this fact is emphasized In the letter he says

You can hardly realize the pleasure one feels, so far away from home and home friends, to receive tidings from his native land At this distance our great republic is one single object of affection—a unit of all the forces of human progress and happiness of which man is capable—just as a distant mountain which has on its side the little house of the traveling dweller looks to him as if it were all his own home, though he can not see his own house or farm. So here our republic looks to me And when I have seen—now for three months—the state of the people in Europe, I am the more glad that I am a citizen of the United States and a Republican That our definite and vigorous protection of the labor of our own national family, farmers, artisans, manufacturers and all, works largely and in every way to the general prosperity no one who is able to see and make comparisons here can fail to notice

I was very glad to hear of the renomination of President Harrison It was right, and it is due to him, to our party and to the steady well being of the country that he be elected, and I hope that all Republicans and independents—I am both—of whatever shade of opinion or wish, will exert themselves to that end Of course we can not expect that those of our fellow-citizens who think that foreign trade and foreign industry is better for us than home work and home trade will help us And we shall win

I am sorry that the necessity that compelled us to come abroad will not admit of my giving my vote to the people's cause, but I rejoice that in Vermont it is not needed to add one more number to the great majority that I hope our state will give in September as well as in November Our dear old commonwealth is small in space and in numbers, but the solidarity of her intelligent opinion is a great moral force which every citizen should help to make so emphatic in the September election that it will be felt in every part of the republic As you know, my dear Senator, I can say all this without the possibility of being thought biased by ambition or resentment. Out of the great current of active politics, I am still proud to be a citizen and a Vermonter, and to speak as such.

Two Great Facts.

Professor Fream of the College of Agriculture of Downton, England, in a paper read before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, August 20, 1892, said, "The American producer is at the mercy of the English consumer, but the English consumer is not at the mercy of the American producer, for there are other countries to fall back upon, such as India," &c The American farmer ought to read this carefully and prayerfully It ought to open his eyes if he is inclined to vote the free-trade ticket. Remember, Roger Q Mills, the Democratic apostle of free trade, in a speech in Congress April 16, 1884, laid down as a fundamental principle of free trade the following doctrine "By the inexorable law of necessity the European manufacturer and the American farmer are customers of each other * * * We send to Europe the surplus products of our farms because we can produce them cheaper here than they can be produced there They send us in return the products of their manufactures, because they can be produced there cheaper than here" Let the American farmer put these two facts together and think over them, and then let him show them to his wife and together they can determine whether he ought in justice to himself vote the Democratic ticket

Fighting Facts

The Review is determined that the official report of the Labor Commissioner of New York, which so clearly justifies the McKinley tariff law, shall not be believed. How it does kick up its heels in its silly effort to explain it away But what is it going to do with the New York bank commissioner's report? He, too, is a Democrat, and did not get his information from either manufacturers or workingmen, but from the books of the savings banks of that state They show that since the McKinley tariff law has been in operation 200,000 more people in the state of New York have become depositors and that there has been an increase of deposits of $85,000 000 Of course all these facts are hard on the fellows who want to vote to impoverish America and enrich England, and they have to do the best they can to cry down American prosperity It has come to the point where American prosperity has for its greatest and most unscrupulous enemies the leaders and press of the Democratic party Let them kick The people will corral the whole herd in November

Did Not Read the Report.

THE Review seems to think so, it don't think, it only asserts—that the strikes of workingmen show that the McKinley tariff has not been beneficial to labor and that this fact disputes the report made by Commissioner Peck It has overlooked the following item in the commissioner's report

The total number of strikes reported for the year 1891 was 4,519, as against 6,258 occurring in the year 1890, a decrease of 1,739 Of the total number, (4,519) 2,375 or 53 per cent of them were in the building trades, a fact that seems to follow in natural sequence the results obtained in the special investigation of the 'Effects of the Tariff on Labor and Wages.'

This puts the Review out of court on its own theory The additional fact that new opportunities for the employment of labor have been opened by the new tariff law and tens of thousands more men have found employment ought to make the Review think, but it does not, Bourbons never think

Competition and Wages

John Jarrett ex president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, says that free trade has brought down the wages of puddlers at Staffordshire from 12 shillings a ton in 1860 to 8 shillings in 1890. The "free trade" is the competition of American iron and steel mills in the British markets Free traders ask how we can possibly make things so cheap and pay high wages at the same time The answer is, "We do"

New Factory

[SPECIAL TO THE REPUBLICAN]

BROCTON, Mass, September 8—The large factory just completed by the W L Douglas Shoe Co, for the exclusive manufacture of the famous W L Douglas $3 shoe, was occupied by the entire force for the first time to day The occasion was observed as a holiday by the residents of this section of the city, and many showed their appreciation of Brockton's growing industry by numerous and handsome decorations and fireworks The factory is the largest in the country devoted to the exclusive manufacture of a special shoe, and its capacity will be taxed to the utmost by the increasing demand for this favorite shoe

DECATUR'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

A Look at the Important Improvements About Completed.

$50,000 Well Spent—Current Expenses—Enrollment

Decatur is emphatically a city of schools. Every advantage is offered for securing a finished education—from the kindergarten to the college course It is a city where families locate in order that their sons and daughters may avail themselves of its excellent educational advantages, and the students from abroad who attend the various colleges and seminaries are numbered by the hundreds The public schools of Decatur are a source of universal pride to our people The reconstruction of the High School building and the building of the new H. B Durfee school, together with the extensive additions to the ward schools, perfects the public school system so far as buildings are concerned and provides ample accommodations for several years to come. The rapid increase in attendance at the public schools has made necessary the building of one new ward school and large additions to the High School and two ward schools The city now has ten public school buildings, all of them are substantial structures of brick and stone They are so distributed that every section of the city is now supplied with a school building within easy walking distance The schools are liberally sustained by the city and are generally patronized by the people Rich and poor alike manifest a deep interest in their welfare

MONEY WELL SPENT

During the past year over $50,000 has been expended in enlarging and extending the public school system in Decatur By the kind invitation of superintendent of schools, E A Gastman, a reporter of the REPUBLICAN was yesterday shown where and how this vast sum had been expended

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

A large addition has been made to the High School building, situated on the corner of North Broadway and East North streets, completely changing the original appearance of the building This new addition includes six new class rooms, besides the library, superintendent's office, principal's room, the laboratory, a large double room for the use of the classes in natural sciences, and the building as it now stands is a thoroughly modern structure, a magnificent building which would be a credit to any city It combines every convenience which will add to the comfort and promote the health of the scholars, and affords every advantage for thorough and systematic instruction The building is heated and ventilated throughout by the Ruttan system. The sanitary arrangements are of the very best. A handsome new belfry adorns the building adding much to the beauty of the same The windows in the old portion of the building have all been changed to the modern single glass sash and a large bay window reaching from top to bottom has been added to the east side of the old structure which makes the rooms much more cheerful The interior of the new portion is finished in the most modern style, the wall in white coating and the woodwork in hard pine finished in oil On each floor is a drinking fountain and washstand On the first floor in the southeast corner is the library which will be supplied with all the latest scientific and other books Adjoining this and communicating by a door is the superintendent's public and private offices, next is a new class room, also wardrobes and teachers' closet On the second floor is the principal's office and two large class rooms, with closets and wardrobes. Third floor is the handsome new laboratory This department having three separate rooms, a class room, the laboratory supplied with all the very latest accessories with plenty of gas and water, and a dark room for experimental purposes, and two class rooms Each pupil will have a separate seat and each room will contain 54 single desks The yard will be graded and beautified, and fine large concrete walks will lead from the street to the doors All in all the High School building is a beautiful structure and the patrons of Decatur public schools should be proud of the name and call and inspect it

THE H B DURFEE SCHOOL

Situated on the corner of Jasper and Herkimer, is now in course of construction and will be ready for occupancy in about three weeks It is a beautiful structure having four school rooms and a basement. This being a new building special attention has been paid to making it as convenient as possible, and is so constructed that new additions can be added without much extra expense This building, like the High School is finished inside with hard pine and oil, the halls run diagonally across the building from the south east to north west and the doors to each school room is so made that the teacher can have full view of her school, at the same time have command of the hall and wardrobes The windows are so constructed that the school can have the advantage of an overhead instead of a side light Here too special attention has been given to the sanitary arrangements and the system of heating and ventilation are the same as in the High School building. The new building is located on a beautiful graded tract of land of one and one-half acres and is one of the handsomest school buildings in the city. Mr. John Loeffler will act as principal of this school

THE JASPER STREET SCHOOL.

Corner of Jasper and East North street, has received an addition of two new rooms, size 25x32, and the main entrance and hall have greatly improved, making the interior much more attractive and the ascent to the upper floor much easier. Here special attention has been given to the light, and the building so arranged that in case other additions should become necessary at some future time, it can be accomplished at very little cost. This building has six school rooms Miss Anna B Simms is principal of this school and takes great pride in her scholars and her surroundings

THE JACKSON STREET SCHOOL

Corner of Jackson and East Sheridan streets, received an addition this year of two new rooms, size 25x32, being the third addition since the school was first built The new addition compelled a new arrangement of the windows in part of the building and the seats throughout have all been so arranged that the scholar will have a left hand light instead of the detrimentary right hand light as of old The closets have been rebuilt and enlarged and the sanitary arrangements are now as good as any building of the kind in the city. Miss Clara E Eymann is principal of this school and is well liked by all its patrons

The Horse Market.

Good grade of heavy drafters, streeters and 1,000 to 1300-pound chunks in demand and selling well There is a little more inquiry for good class of drivers than for some weeks past, but no particular advance in prices Small horses, as well as common stock, dull sale at low prices. Everything to sell to advantage must be well broken and in good flesh Horses in thin flesh or otherwise out of condition will not sell for their full value We anticipate a good demand and fair prices for the better grades of drivers and actors during the latter part of this month, also in October. There has been but little change in prices during the week past, and we quote Heavy drafters, 1500 to 1700 pounds, $155 to $225, express horses, $150 to $225, rugged streeters, $90 to $100, chunks, 1100 to 1300 pounds, $95 to $140 The above quotations are for sound horses, 5 to 8 years old, well broken and in good flesh But few range horses on the market. They are selling at from $18 to $60, unbroken, according to quality It is the heavier ones that sell for most money

IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE.

Sale of the Smith, Hubbard & Co.'s Stock to Irwin, Kirkland & Co.

Some time ago it was announced that S. M. Irwin, with associates, had decided to engage in business in Decatur extensively as manufacturing pharmacists, and not long since M. L. Deck broke ground on West William street for a building 36x68 feet for the use of the new enterprise.

Yesterday there was an important change in plans and arrangements A contract was signed by which Henry Smith and W H. Hubbard, who have been doing business under the name of Smith, Hubbard & Co, sold their entire stock of goods to the new firm of Irwin, Kirkland & Co The members of the new firm are S M Irwin, J H Kirkland and T C Kirkland. The purchase price is not known Possession will be given on October 1, and until about December 1 the Loeb building will be occupied, when Irwin, Kirkland & Co. will remove to the Deck building, which will be greatly enlarged to afford space for the increased facilities contemplated. Irwin, Kirkland & Co. as manufacturing pharmacists, take the business and good will of Smith, Hubbard & Co, and besides the specialties already on the market, a great variety of other goods will be manufactured for the trade There is ample space near the Deck building to enlarge the I, K. & Co plant, and Mr. Irwin and J H Kirkland, who will be the active members of the new company, will spare no effort or expense to push the business to the end that the factory will soon become one of the largest in size and commercial importance in the west.

We understand that it is the purpose of Henry Smith to devote all his time and means to pushing the Rock Plaster industry in which he is largely interested

Mr Hubbard may leave the road and engage in business in Decatur which will not require absence from home

The style of the retail drug firm, with which S. M Irwin has been connected will be I N Irwin & Co I N Irwin, Charles H Irwin and Ed Kennelly are the individual members who will be in charge of the retail store

ROPE CLIMBING.

A Frenchman's Practical Suggestion for Aerial Workers

A French inventor has devised a novel and practical arrangement for use of firemen and painters to facilitate rope climbing and at the same time to permit the climber to have free use of his hands. The apparatus consists of two boards, joined by a hinge with a hole passing through both the hinge and the boards, and the extremities of the latter provided with straps, which can be fastened to the feet of the man using the apparatus. The method of climbing involved in this arrangement is simple. When the feet attached to the boards are lifted the rope is free, but the moment the feet are pressed down on the two boards the rope is firmly gripped It is only necessary, therefore to lift the body with both hands as far as possible, and it can then be held by the hinged clamps until another lift is made By the use of a belt to hold the body close to the rope the hands may be left free

World's Fair Notes

During his visit to Chicago at the time of the dedication of the World's Fair buildings, in October, President Harrison will be the guest of Harlow N Higinbotham, President of the Exposition

Arrangements have been completed whereby excursion trains to the World's Fair, by whatever road they may arrive in Chicago, will run within the Exposition grounds and discharge her passengers their No transfer of passengers at any point will be necessary

The Southern Pacific railway has recently subscribed for $20,000 of World's Fair stock The various transportation lines of the country have taken an aggregate of about $1,000,000 of the stock

Several Australian cyclists are coming to the World's Fair to engage in the cycling contests which are being arranged

A heroic statue of Hendrik Hudson, the discoverer of the Hudson river, will be placed in New York's World's Fair building.

More than 10,000 men are now at work in getting the buildings and grounds ready for the great Exposition of 1893. On a number of the structures work proceeds day and night Wonderful progress is being made, and it is assured that all will be completed in time for the opening

A Mother's Mistake.

Mothers frequently make a mistake in neglecting the cough of a child. A Fort Wayne, Ind., lady writes: My little daughter, 6 years old, had a severe cough but as it was nothing unusual I thought nothing of it, and allowed it to run on for four or five weeks, when it became so obstinate she began losing flesh. I called in a physician who treated her three weeks without benefit A neighbor insisted upon my trying Ballard's Horehound Syrup, it relieved her from the first dose and she began gaining flesh rapidly, and when we had used two bottles her cough had entirely disappeared. I would not be without it It does not constipate my children. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is free from opiates. FIGHTING THE PEST.

Troops and Naval Reserves Embark for Fire Island.

THE PESTILENCE ABATING IN RUSSIA.

The Scourge in France—Quarantine Against Canadian Vessels—A Suspicious Case — Born in Quarantine, Etc.

Troops Embarked for Fire Island.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Acting under the orders of Commander Jacob W. Miller, of the first battalion, naval reserve, under orders of Gov. Flower, over 80 per cent. of the battalion reported for service this morning at pier 36, North river. They will start for Fire island on the iron steamboat Pegasus. The men carry two days' provisions and are armed with Remington rifles, cutlasses and revolvers besides four Howitzers and four Gatling guns, received from the navy yard. The men receive $3.50 a day when under orders.

J. W. Miller is commander; G. E. Kent is executive officer; John Vanderpool, surgeon; Herbert Satterlee is navigator and paymaster; J. G. Ager is in charge of the commissary. The battalion of the sixty-ninth regiment joined the naval reserve at the pier and also went on board the Pegasus for transport to Fire island. Three thousand rounds of ammunition are also stowed away on the Pegasus.

Keep Them Out.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Surgeon Stoner, of the marine hospital service at Sault Ste. Marie, reports the detention, on the Canadian border, of forty-six immigrants, some of them Russian Finns. The immigrants sailed from Liverpool in the steamer Circassia, August 25, and arrived at Quebec, September 4, where only a slight disinfection was made—only their hand baggage being fumigated, the trunks, etc., not being opened.

In order to prevent the incoming of immigrants into the United States by boat to Duluth or on to Winnipeg and across into Dakota or Minnesota, which is easily done, Dr. Stone, recommends the establishment of stations at railroad crossings immediately south of Winnipeg. This has been looked after.

The Pestilence Abating in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 14.—The returns continue to show a marked decrease of the cholera pestilence throughout Russia. The official report for Saturday places the number of new cholera cases in all Russia at 2,810, and the deaths at 1,602. Compared with returns for Friday these figures show a decrease of 2,844 new cases and 1,184 deaths.

Monday sixty-four new cases and twenty-seven deaths were reported in St. Petersburg, an increase of two new cases and a decrease of one death compared with Sunday.

Dr. Jenkins Served With a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

QUARENTINE, Staten Island, Sept 14.—Lawyer Roger M. Sherman came here late yesterday afternoon and served a writ of habeas corpus on Dr. Jenkins, requiring him to produce the Normannia's passengers before Judge Barnard in Brooklyn, at 9 a. m. today. The writ was obtained on behalf of one of the passengers, and the list is headed by A. M. Palmer. It requires Dr. Jenkins to show cause why the passengers should not be released.

The Scourge in France.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The cholera is said to be raging in the small town of Eyrone, in the department of Eure, northwestern portion of France.

There were twenty deaths from cholera in Paris yesterday. No new cases were reported.

A report issued by the public health department says there has been a rapid decrease in the number of isolated cases of the disease occurring in the northern departments.

Death With His Scythe.

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—A balloon passing over Passenheim yesterday terrified the peasants, who believed that it was the embodiment of the plague. The people in the fields fell on their knees, groaning: "The cholera is coming."

When the aeronauts landed near the village the people fled to their houses, crossing themselves and shouting that they had seen Death with his scythe.

Quarantine Against Canadian Vessels.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Measures for establishing a quarantine against Canadian vessels were adopted yesterday at a meeting of federal and local officials. A detail of sanitary inspectors will be placed on the revenue cutter Andy Johnson, and all vessels from Canadian ports will be inspected before being permitted to enter port.

Died of Cholera Before She Could Call for Help.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Mme. Brunette, who lived alone in the Rue de Flandrau, disappeared a week ago. Persons who called found her door locked. Monday they broke in and found her dead body, terribly decomposed, on the floor. Everything indicated that she had been stricken with cholera and died without being able to call help.

To Assist in Guarding the Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—An order was issued at the navy department yesterday directing the commandant of the marine barracks here to send a detachment of marines to the immigrant camp at Sandy Hook to assist in guarding the immigrants.

A Suspicious Case.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A laborer named McLeister is dead of cholera at Cahler, in Lanarkshire, Scotland, and it is feared that this is a case of Asiatic cholera, as the district has recently been infested by Russians and Poles.

Born in Quarantine.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—A dispatch from Fire island states that one of the quarantined lady passengers on board the Cepheus was safely delivered of a baby boy Monday night.

Cholera Notes.

—A man named Gland died at Empire City, Nev., Monday. The doctors report his disease as genuine cholera.

—The report that there are several cases of cholerine in East Toledo, O., is declared to be without foundation.

—There were no new cases or deaths from cholera on the vessels or islands in the lower bay at New York yesterday.

—The Pegasus left pier 36, North river, at 12:45 p. m. yesterday, with 500 members of the sixty-ninth regiment and 250 naval reserves for Fire island.

—The North German Lloyd steamer Aller, which arrived at Quarantine Monday morning, was released at 10:15 yesterday and proceeded to her pier at New York.

—Passengers on board the steamship Labrador, from Liverpool, which arrived at Montreal Monday, complain bitterly of the want of accommodations at Grosse Isle quarantine station.

—The general term of the supreme court of Kings county, N. Y., yesterday vacated the temporary injunction obtained by the board of health of the town of Islip restraining Gov. Flower from using Fire island as a quarantine station.

M'KINLEY AT ELWOOD.

A Wet Day for the Advocates of Protection—Elwood's Phenomenal Growth.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 14.—The fates seemed to be against Gov. McKinley yesterday. The one day of all the year set for the big Elwood celebration where he was to act as sponsor at the birth of the infant tin-plate industry, proved the most disagreeable of the season. A drizzle that set in at midnight developed into a driving rain storm by daylight, and it poured incessantly until after 2 o'clock.

Notwithstanding the downpour the train bearing McKinley and Gov. Chase from this city carried about a thousand excursionists and fairly large crowds greeted them at the towns on the way. When they arrived at Elwood at noon they found that 8,000 or 9,000 people from other towns in the state had also braved the storm to see the works of the American Tin Plate Co. and hear the apostle of protection.

At 1:30 o'clock about two thousand people stood in the rain in front of the opera house and listened to three minute addresses by Govs. McKinley and Chase, who were themselves without shelter. Later as many people as could be packed into the little opera house listened to a more lengthy address by Gov. McKinley, devoted entirely to the tariff issue. He said many new and bright things in defense of his bill; complimented Indiana upon the rapid growth of her industries in the past six years, and pointed to Elwood, now a town of 12,000 people, from what three years ago was a village of 600, as a striking example of what the protective policy is doing for the country.

Aside from the tin-plate plant Elwood has one of the largest glassworks in the country, and it happens that all the industries of the town are of the protected class. He predicted prosperity for the tin mill and prophesied that it would help to make American tin cheaper than imported tin ever was.

After the speech he was taken through the works before leaving for home at 4 p. m. The company, of which A. L. Conger is president, has six mills, occupying three large buildings, in operation, employing 300 men. It produces about six carloads of plates per week.

BAYARD'S VIEW OF IT.

The Ex-Secretary of State on the Venezuelan Question.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 14.—In an interview with a United Press reporter regarding the Venezuelan question, ex-Secretary of State Bayard had the following to say:

"The boundaries of Venezuela, where they approach those of British Guiana, have been for a long time a vexed question between Venezuela and Great Britain, or rather private companies of British subjects engaged in gold mining in what is generally known as the Orinoco region. Serious complaints were made by the Venezuelan representatives in Washington of the encroachment of British jurisdiction, and of claims to navigate the Orinoco river to such an extent as would penetrate the interior of Venezuela and destroy the independent authority of that country over a vast region of valuable country which that country claimed as her own exclusively. I think a true history of the case will show that the differences had their origin in concessions obtained by British subjects as private enterprises from the government of Venezuela, and the consequent investment of a great deal of private British capital in the development of those rich mining regions. After these investments were made and the property became valuable these private owners found themselves subjected to the extortion and tyrannical demands of the Venezuelan officers. Therefore they claimed British protection against spoliation by Venezuelan officials, and were desirous of seeing the British jurisdiction extend over that territory in which their mining operations were conducted. As the attitude of the United States was to be one of impartial friendship towards both governments the present concentration of naval forces is not explained by anything in the published correspondence thus far.

May Resume Business.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Comptroller Hepburn has given permission to the first national bank of Middleboro, Ky., to resume business upon the stockholders paying in 50 per cent. of the capital stock. The bank failed September 5, 1892.

Thought to Have Abdicated.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 14.—It is thought that Sir John Abbott has virtually abdicated the premiership. His rooms at the Victoria chambers have been given up, and all his personal effects have been sent to Montreal, indicating that he does not intend to return to this city as premier.

The Cabin Passengers of the Steamship Normannia

ONCE MORE STAND ON TERRA FIRMA.

Gov. Flower's Vigorous Efforts in Their Behalf Effective—The Presence of an Armed Force Causes the Clam-Diggers to Scamper.

Safe on Terra Firma.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The cabin passengers of the Hamburg-American steamship Normannie, whose unenviable experience of the past few days has attracted to them wide-spread attention and sympathy, have at length reached a haven of rest and safety. Late yesterday afternoon for the first time in many days, their feet touched Mother Earth, and they were quartered in the Surf hotel on Fire island, surrounded by all the comforts of home, and by a cordon of soldiers, who will protect them from the attacks, the hoots and the jeers of the brutal residents of the island.

The landing was not effected without a great deal of trouble. The governor was awake until all hours of the night to devise means to relieve the unfortunate passengers of the Normannia from their hazardous position. The best of legal advice was sought by him ere the conclusion was reached that the injunction would not stand. Acting on this theory the governor ordered the naval reserve and several companies of the sixty-ninth and thirteenth regiments of state militia to go to Fire island to quell the turbulent spirit which existed among the bay men, whose heartless action regarding the unfortunate passengers had caused the people throughout the entire country to shudder. This action taken and the troops dispatched, the supreme court general term of Kings county was appealed to to dissolve the injunction obtained Monday restraining the landing of the passengers. After argument pro and con, the court promptly acceded to the appeal.

The news was at once telegraphed to Fire island to those on both sides. It caused joy to the anxious ones on the steamboats, while the persons who had been "protecting their rights" changed their minds upon this subject in very short order, and began leaving Fire island in small boats for their homes on the shore.

The piteous appeals of the unfortunate passengers could not move these sturdy clam-diggers Monday night, but when they heard troops would soon be on the scene they moved from the island in a hurry, and soon the place was comparatively deserted.

The health officials and state officers then (2 p. m.) began preparations for the reception of the passengers on board the Cepheus.

When the news reached the quarantined passengers that the work of transferring was about to begin, they crowded to the rail and gave one yell of happiness. It could have been heard for miles around. The band on the Cepheus struck up "Red, White and Blue," and the cheering was kept up continuously for five minutes. It was a long roar of delight. When the shouts were answered by the reporters and health officers on the dock it was answered again and again by the people on board the Cepheus.

Dr. Voight ordered all the deputies to go to the west of the Surf hotel and drive all the people as far away as possible. This was the first established quarantine of the day. The natives were not visible. Most of them had not been seen since noon, when they went home for dinner and very few showed up again. It was a complete collapse of their stand and it showed that if several policemen had ventured ashore from the Cepheus and tried to make a landing yesterday the mob would have fallen back in disorder. It was only bluster and brag after all that kept them together, and when they saw that enough were ready to meet them they fell away like chaff before the wind.

The 427 passengers from the Cepheus were landed between 5 and 5:30 p. m. They were a happy and delighted lot. The greatest excitement prevailed. Women who had so long born up under all the distressing circumstances and had so heroically endured all the hardships that have thus far attended the Normannia's eventful voyage, appeared to lose all self-control in the joyous moments, and wept and shouted and jumped about like a number of school children.

The contagion of the spirit of good fellowship was everywhere evinced, women embracing each other and men grasping each others' hands like comrades after a declaration of peace.

Preceded by the band, which played lively marches and national airs, the crowd of passengers, grip-sacks and other traveling equipments in hand, marched down the gang plank to the Surf hotel, waving hats, umbrellas and shawls in the air, and altogether, acting more like so many insane patients than reputable, and in many instances, well-known citizens.

JAY GOULD AND THE WABASH

He and Several of His Friends Elected Directors of the Wabash.

Jay Gould's hold on the Wabash railroad was materially strengthened yesterday when at the annual meeting in St. Louis he was elected a director. His son George has been a director of the road for the last two years and Russell Sage and O. D. Ashley, strong Gould men are also directors. Mr. Ashley is president of the company. There are several other Gould men on the Board of Directors and the Wabash may now be looked upon as as much of a Gould line as the Missouri Pacific.

At yesterday's meeting the following Board of Directors was elected:

Francis Pavy, C. C. Macrae, Edgar T. T. Wells, Harry K. McHay, T. H. Hubbard, C. J. Lawrence, George J. Gould, Russell Sage, John T. Terry, S. C. Reynolds, D. B. Wykoff, Jay Gould and O. D. Ashley.

The new directors elected were Jay Gould, C. C. Macrae and Francis Pavy, the two latter of London, Eng. Messrs. Jay, How, and Hayes declined reelection learning, (from Gould) that the English security-holders desired a larger representation on the board.

It is not believed that Vice-President How or General Manager Hayes, who failed of re-election as directors, will quit the service of the company, but that they will continue in their respective positions.

The by-laws were altered at yesterday's meeting so that it is not necessary to be a director in order to hold the office of vice-president.

The following report of earning and operating expenses for the year ending June 30, 1892, was submitted:

Gross earnings	$14,389,531.13
Operating expenses	10,832,526.95
Net earnings	3,556,804.18
Miscellaneous receipts	190,453.48
Total	$ 3,747,257.66

After payment of interest on bonds and mortgages the report shows a surplus of $91,476.

Crop Prospects in Illinois.

The Illinois weather bulletin for the week ending September 12 says: "The temperature of the last week was slightly below a seasonable average throughout the state. At the central office, Springfield, the daily deficiency was about 2 degrees. An average amount of sunshine prevailed during the week. The rainfall of the week, except in the southern counties, has been generally above the normal. The weather conditions of the last week have, upon the whole, been generally beneficial to corn. The early planted is reported as maturing rapidly, and will soon be out of the reach of frost. Light frosts were reported in a few counties September 6, doing slight injury to corn on low ground.

"The reports indicate that the late corn, while growing nicely, needs about three more weeks of seasonable weather to put it beyond injury from frost. The Douglas county correspondent reports corn so badly lodged that but little wheat will be sown on corn ground.

"Plowing is still progressing throughout the state, and it is probable that owing to the copious rain which fell September 10 and 11 the ground will be in excellent condition for the work. In some of the southern counties wheat is being sown. Pastures will be greatly benefited by the rains of the last few days. The reports show no improvement in the condition of fruit.

The Main Election.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 13.—The state elections for the choice of the four congressmen and members of the legislature occurred yesterday under the Australian ballot law, and as far as learned, everybody appears satisfied with the working of the system. In 1888 the republicans had a plurality in the state of 18,930 for governor and in 1890 their plurality was 19,100. Comparison this year will be made with the vote of the later year.

Manley Claims a Clean Sweep.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 13.—The following dispatch explains itself:

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 12.

To Hon. Thomas A. Carter, Chairman of the Republican Committee, New York:

The total vote will be 12,000 less than in 1888. We elect all four congressmen; carry fourteen of the sixteen counties, have two of the members of the legislature and elect our governor by 11,000 majority over the democratic candidate. J. H. MANLEY.

Canned Corn Will Go Up.

The article of canned corn is exciting a great deal of solicitude among jobbers. The pack of 1891-92 was the largest ever known, exceeding previous years by 1,000,000 cases, and yet it has been consumed, scarcely a can being left over. The pack of 1892, now about ready for the market, will be much smaller than that of last year, and the supply will therefore be quite inadequate. The people seem to dote upon canned corn, and its popularity seems to have been suddenly established or increased, at any rate, by the very low prices which obtained three years ago and had the effect to bring it into general use. Packers are taking every advantage to cut down deliveries in their contracts with jobbers.

How to Get a Farm!

I HAVE FOR SALE 30 splendid quarter sections of land within 4 to 12 miles of Imperial, county seat of Chase county and rail road. The soil is good and rich, and the land smooth. You can raise fall and spring wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley and vegetables. The soil will produce the same amount, per acre, that Illinois soil will produce, and you can till 140 acres out of every 160 acres. The price is such that every farmer can get a farm for himself, his son, and the price paid for rental in Illinois will pay for the land we offer for sale. Price from $4.50 to $8 per acre. One-third down, balance in 3 years, with interest at 8 per cent. per annum, secured by mortgage. If you buy 160 acres, a rebate will be given purchaser for $15. If you will write me, I will send you a map and full description of land. If you will come and see me, I will go out and show you the land. You will never have such a chance again to secure a home at such low prices. R. R. RANDALL, Sr., 1601 "O" St., Lincoln, Neb. Reference, First National Bank. June30-w3m
